Atharva Foundation and All Play Productions ‘All Play... a carnival of joy’

We take immense pleasure in introducing an ancient art of drama & performing arts to children and inculcate the qualities it develops in our children. It's an endeavor to empower them about themselves and life through fun and joy, to illuminate their brilliance and shine their individuality through the processes, as who they are and be confident to share themselves with world. It's an effort to let them know that they do matter and bring out their uniqueness joyfully.
